

NACC - RACCO 1

National Authority for Child Care · Regional Alternative Child Care Office 1

INITIAL PSYCHOLOGICAL EVALUATION

CONFIDENTIAL (sample) · prepared for case management use only

Name of child:	Angelica Torres	Case reference:	C-0009 · Adoption
Age:	7	Coverage:	Intake evaluation, July 2026
Prepared by:	Hannah Baker, RPsy	Date:	21 July 2026

REASON FOR REFERRAL

Angelica was referred at intake for an initial psychological evaluation to inform her case management plan under the alternative child care program.

BEHAVIORAL OBSERVATIONS

Angelica separated from her grandmother without distress and engaged readily with the examiner. Speech was clear and goal-directed for her age. She smiled frequently, sought approval after completing tasks, and tolerated transitions between activities well. Fine-motor control during drawing tasks appeared age-typical.

FINDINGS

Presentation on interview and observation is consistent with an adaptable, socially responsive child. Angelica identifies her grandmother as her primary attachment figure and describes her daily routine with detail and ease. Mild bedtime fears were reported by the caregiver and acknowledged by the child; these are developmentally common and currently managed with a consistent routine. No findings requiring immediate intervention were identified at intake.

RECOMMENDATIONS

1. Enroll in the standard counseling track with quarterly review.
2. Maintain the current bedtime routine; monitor the reported night-time fears.
3. Conduct a collateral interview with the grandmother at the next visit.
4. Proceed with case management steps toward permanency planning.

SAMPLE - FICTIONAL DATA - FOR SYSTEM DEMO ONLY

Hannah Baker

Hannah Baker, RPsy · Licensed Psychologist